

YOU ARE IFO.

IFO membership. It's all about you.

The Institute of Financial Operations is a membership-based professional association serving the entire financial operations ecosystem, with a particular focus on the accounts payable and accounts receivable disciplines and the related fields of information management and data capture. We're here to help you be your best.

GROWTH

- Conferences and e-learning: Expand your knowledge and proficiency, while delivering improved results to your company.
- Certifications and credentialing: Earn these credentials and show the world (and your employer) that you're a force to be reckoned with in your field.
- Research and thought leadership: Incubate new strategic ideas and foster leading-edge thinking within your team and organization.

KNOWLEDGE

- News: Access timely, relevant, and up-to-date news and headlines right at your computer, right when you need them.
- Resource Center: Improve your efficiencies and work performance, while increasing your contributions to your company.
- Guidance: Turn to The Institute as your go-to source for best practices and professional standards.

COMMUNITY

- Networking: Expand your interactions with peers to solve problems, share ideas, and exchange best practices, while building and enhancing your professional network.
- Ask the Experts: Submit a question, and our team of volunteer professionals will share their knowledge with you.
- Partners: Improve your business operations and bottom line through our diverse vendor and service provider listings.
- Leadership opportunities: Develop your visibility, experience, and connections by sharing your expertise and providing mentoring to less-experienced colleagues.

Margareta Andien
Oracle Systems Administrator
Johnson and Wales University
New Member 2014

The Institute of
Financial Operations

FinancialOps.org/membership

YOU ARE IFO.

IFO membership. It's all about you.

Choose the membership that's right for you!

To meet the diverse needs of our members, The Institute of Financial Operations provides several membership options.

Individual Membership

Premium membership $265 per year
Full-service membership featuring access to all premium member benefits, including complimentary webinars and participation in local chapter events.

Student membership $45 per year
Highly discounted membership offering unlimited access to our robust online news portal and Resource Center, along with valuable networking opportunities at local chapter meetings and events.

Group Membership

Corporate membership Call for pricing
Empower your entire financial operations team with outstanding learning and networking opportunities. Membership helps your employees strengthen their knowledge, improve performance, and make greater contributions to the company.

Nonprofit group affiliation Call for pricing
Nonprofit groups enjoy the same robust benefits as our corporate group members, at a highly discounted base fee and an affordable incremental individual member fee.

Membership Guarantee

The Institute of Financial Operations is dedicated to providing exceptional service to our members. If The Institute does not meet your expectations, we will make it right, extend your membership benefits at no cost to you for an additional year, or promptly refund your membership dues.

For more information:

Web: Financialops.org/membership
email: membership@financialops.org
Telephone: (407) 351-3322

Revised 2016

Eric Jones
Director, Corporate Payables
Lowe's Companies Inc.
Member Since 1995